Snazzy 66-meter Nuvolari Lenard Design for Turquoise Yachts

7 July 2016, Venice, Italy: Nuvolari Lenard’s new 66-meter NL233 motoryacht—conceived for Turquoise Yachts—is a sexy, sporty machine designed with fast fluid lines that extend from her vertical bow all the way to the stern. Typical of Nuvolari Lenard designs is a continuity that makes the yacht appear as if it is all of one piece—where the hull and superstructure form a seamless line.

“It is impossible to have a nicely proportioned design by separating the hull and the superstructure,” says Carlo Nuvolari. “Beautiful buildings and automobiles are composed of integrated parts; so too should a yacht be.”

This 66-meter has a sweeping sundeck that offers a flexible Mediterranean living area which can be protected from wind and weather via glass partitions. Other notable features are the luxurious beach club adjacent to the swim platform and a particularly generous garage for a yacht of this size—capable of handling two 8+meter tenders as well as jet skis and other toys.
